Pahokee's 60th birthday nears

PAHOKEE—When the City of Pahokee 60th Anniversary Parade gets underway it will be the largest parade to have marched down the streets of this vegetable growing city set on the shores of Lake Okechobee.

According to Rob Tiller, administrative assistant of J. Ray Hatton, of Hatton Properties, Inc.,

Gov. Bob Graham and Country/Western singer Mel Tillis will be appearing in the parade.

Tiller said several military units will also be marching in the parade. Combat machinery, airplanes and helicopters are also expected to march down Bacom Point to the Pahokee Pier.

C.R. Wetherington, a local community businessman and a former Chamber of Commerce

Man of the Year will serve as the parade marshal.

According to Wetherington the parade will kick off on Saturday, March 20 at 10 a.m. at the Pahokee Airport. The parade will conclude at the Pahokee High School football field on Larrimore Rd.

Tiller said the 60th Anniversary planning committee has also invited President Ronald Reagan to participate in the celebration. As of Friday, Tiller said he did not have firm confirmation the President would be attending. Tiller said he was positive a representative from the White House would attend the celebration if the President could not attend.

Congressmen visit Glades to research H-2 program

Two United States Congressmen came down to the Glades Saturday, March 6, to discuss the impact of illegal immigration into the area.

Romano Mazzoli, representative out of Louisville, Kentucky and chairman of the house subcommittee on Immigration and Naturalization was accompanied by Bill McCollum, a subcommittee member out of Orlando and Clearwater, Florida. McCollum is the only Florida representative on the committee.

The two rode a van through Runyon Village and Previtt Village labor communities, and observed a cane field from the van before arriving at the sugar co-op north-east of Belle Glade for a lunch and question and answer session with local officials.

Present at the lunch and session were representatives of several local sugar companies and the United States Border Patrol.

"We have come to the Glades area to get information from those of you who we feel are experts in the field," said McCollum.

Mazzoli told the group the climate was good for a bill restricting immigration, but said he could not guarantee passage of such a bill.

"I can't guarantee that a bill is going to be passed," he said. "There is a good possibility that the 97th congress, of 1982, will enact a bill."

He also asked input from the group on several proposals, including one that would grant legal status to illegal immigrants.

George F. Sorn, assistant general manager and manager of the Labor Division of Florida Fruit and Vegetables Association, said granting legal status to illegal aliens currently working in agriculture would not solve many of the problems caused by their presence and could cause others.

"Illegals, if legalized, will gravitate to better jobs," he said. "Up to 1970, local agriculture used few illegal aliens, but now, 'it banks on them,' said Sorn."

Sorn also agreed there are Americans that could do the work many aliens are currently employed to do, but added the increased labor costs could hurt the industry.

"At a given rate, and American will work," he said. "But at that rate, will the industry survive."

The congressional committee was in South Florida from Thursday, March 4 to Sunday, March 7.

Museum commemorates anniversary

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee Woman's Club is planning to open a museum next to the Chamber of Commerce to commemorate the 60th anniversary of Pahokee. The museum will be open March 19th through March 21st.

The museum committee would appreciate any outside help and information they can get. They will be displaying items of the medical, educational, religious, social, civic and agricultural growth of the community over the past 60 years.

If you have any pictures or other items of interest, they would certainly like to borrow them. Mrs. Vee Harrington at the Chamber of Commerce can make copies of photographs and you can keep your originals.

Mrs. Harrington can be contacted at the Chamber of Commerce 924-5579. The committee will also accept any items the community would care to donate.

Time is running short and they do have several items of interest in the museum, but they do need support and suggestions from the community.

For further information please contact any of the following committee members: Wynona Cummings, 924-2387; Julia Wilkerson, 924-7722; Vivian McKinstry, 924-7558; Susan Rozelle, 924-2401; Anne Wilkerson, 924-7022; or Kay Barnes, 924-5077.

6 qualify for council

By JEFF BROWN

PAHOKEE—Six residents, including Mayor Duncan Padgett, have qualified to appear on the city ballot this May.

Voters will have the opportunity to elect officials to three city council seats and the positions of mayor, city clerk and police marshal on May 4.

The deadline for qualifying is April 2. In City Council Group One race, the seat currently held by Hugo Raineri, Ramon Horta, Jr., 21, of 2587 SW 14th Terrace, has qualified for a spot on the ballot. Horta is an employee of the Royal Crown Cola Co.

Horta will be opposed by Glen Carrick of South Lake Avenue.

Raineri had repeatedly stated he does not intend to run for re-election, calling himself a "one-term man."

Council President George Rashley has also recently stated that he probably won't seek re-election in the Group Two race.

To date, only one candidate has filed to run in that contest: Simon Train Hastings. Hastings, of 256 SW 14th Street in Pahokee is an employee of WIRK radio station.

Jon Mock, 25, is the only councilman currently running for re-election. Mock, of 149 Annona Avenue, is employed by South Bay Growers. Mock has been on the council since 1980.

City Marshall Carmen Salvatore, 40, of 101 Salvatore Lane, has qualified to run for re-election. He has been police marshal for 13 years.

City Clerk Betty McCoy has filed for re-election also. McCoy, 46, of 140 Greentree Avenue, has been city clerk for ten years.

Duncan Padgett, 76, of 630 South Barfield Highway, also filed for re-election. Padgett had served as mayor from 1960 to 1980 before retiring. He was called out of retirement to fill the unexpired term of Noma Norman, who resigned in September 1981.

UNITED STATES CONGRESSMAN Romano Mazzoli, Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Immigration, addresses a question at a luncheon in Belle Glade Saturday. To his left sits John Boy and United States Representative Bill McCollum. McCollum, out of Orlando, is the only Florida Congressman on the subcommittee.

Super market posts reward for return of stolen checks

BELLE GLADE—The Winn Dixie food store chain is offering rewards for the return of stolen checks and information leading to the arrest and prosecution of those responsible for the Friday, March 5, robbery those checks were stolen during.

According to R.C. Schwieger, Miami Division Security Manager for Winn Dixie, the chain is offering a reward of ten percent for any checks, WIC checks or food stamps taken in the robbery. All the checks and food stamps are endorsed for deposit only and are useless to anyone other than the chain.

In addition, the company offers a standing $2,500 reward to anyone who provides information leading to the arrest and prosecution of someone who robbed a Winn Dixie store.

Anyone who has one of the stolen checks or food stamps the company is looking for and wishes to receive the reward is asked to turn it in at the Belle Glade Police Department, according to Schwieger.

Approximately 182 checks and 21 W.I.C.

checks in addition to an undetermined amount of currency and food stamps were taken from the Winn Dixie at the Glades Plaza, 545 SW 16th Street Friday, March 5 by an armed robber.

According to police reports, an armed gunman entered the office in the store shortly after 7 p.m. and ordered an assistant manager and cashier to "Give me the money," and to lie on the floor.

Another employee entered the office during the robbery and was ordered to lie down. The suspect took the money and fled on foot.

A witness later said he saw someone enter a parking lot behind the Sears store in the plaza and ride away.

The suspect is described as a black male in his 20s, standing five feet, nine inches and weighing about 210 pounds. He had a dark complexion and black hair worn in a medium length afro.

He was seen fleeing the scene wearing a gray hat with a button down bill, a black shirt, black and gray checked pants and a beige jacket.

Country club operator seeks rent relief

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE—The operator of the Lakeside Country Club has asked the city to lower his rent by almost two thirds.

John Vayias, who has operated the club since March 1, 1979, has asked the city commission to grant him a new lease at $250 a month. He is currently paying $750 monthly.

In addition, he has asked the city to take his back rent out of a security deposit. At the end of February, 1982, Vayias owed the city $5,460 in back rent, according to City Finance Director Frank C. Anderson. The security deposit totals $6,286.89.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman suggested that if the city would lower the monthly rent by $500, it would expect to receive a percentage of the monthly gross from the restaurant and bar operation.

"If we make a concession because of the bad times, then the city should also be able to benefit because of the good times," said Altman.

If an agreement cannot be reached on that option, Altman said he views the city as having three options: close the club down completely; find another lessee or operate the club on its own.

The city operated the club prior to March, 1979. According to City Clerk June Boy, Jr., the city commissioners decided to lease the club to an outside party in 1979 because it was "making no money, costing money."

According to reports at the City Commission meeting Monday, March 8, Vayias is asking for the rent concessions because of financial difficulties in the operating of the club.

Any lease based on a percentage of the gross receipts should provide the city access to the books and sales tax records of the establishment. The commissioners agreed to have Anderson and city attorney John Baker develop a tentative

Police confrontation claims life

PAHOKEE - One man died as a result of a confrontation between him and the police Friday, March 5. Nathaniel Bash was pronounced dead at the scene after he was shot three times by a Palm Beach County Deputy Sheriff.

★ REWARD ★

Winn Dixie Stores will pay a reward of 10% of recovered checks, WIC Coupons, and Food Stamps taken in a robbery Friday, March 5th, 1982 of the Winn Dixie Store in Belle Glade Plaza, Belle Glade, Florida. The checks, coupons and food stamps were in a white canvas bag, endorsed for deposit by Winn Dixie and of no value to anyone but Winn Dixie.

If you have information about the robbery or wish to return any of the checks, coupons or stamps that you may have found, contact the Belle Glade Police Department.

There is also a $2500 reward for information leading to the arrest and prosecution of a person or persons involved in the robbery.

Pahokee police had been called to 220 State Market Road, apartment four in Pahokee at about 4 p.m.

When they arrived, they found Bash in the apartment with an axe. Police Chief Carmen Salvatore III entered the apartment and tried to disarm him. Bash attempted to assault Salvatore, driving the police from the apartment.

The Sheriff's department was notified and several county officers attempted to disarm Bash, who had armed himself with a shotgun. Deputies decided to confine Bash to the apartment for the safety of the residents in the building, but Bash, pointing the shotgun at Deputy Sheriff Michael G. Stull, moved toward the door. Stull fired three times.

The Sheriff's Office Investigative Shooting Team will investigate the incident. Upon the completion of its investigation, the matter will be referred to the State Attorney's office and the Grand Jury. This is normal procedure in such cases, according to the Sheriff's Office.

During the incident, the Pahokee police department determined that Bash had stabbed a four-year old child in the back with an ice-pick.

The child was treated at Everglades Memorial Hospital.

Bash, who was from out of the area, was visiting an aunt.

JOB CORPS was in town recently to screen applicants as well as to transport applicants who have been assigned positions. Man plunges to death in Pahokee PAHOKEE -- The Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department is investigating the death of a Pahokee man who apparently jumped off an observation tower Monday, March 8.

Anthony Kinsler, 24, of 1566 Jordan Avenue in Pahokee allegedly climbed the fence around the Marvin Cowart Memorial Observation Tower on Hoover Dike north of city hall at about 7:10 p.m.

He ascended the stairs to the top of the tower and topped the railing on the platform. According to the sheriff's office, he either fell or jumped and plunged to the pavement on the east side of the tower. The incident is still being investigated.

agreement on a percentage-lease basis.

The proposal would be for one year with a base rent of $250 plus a percentage of the gross. At the end of one year, the lease may be renewed.

Commissioner George Goforth expressed displeasure with the extension clause and Commissioner Charles Goodlett suggested that the city currently spends more than $250 a month to live up to the present lease agreement.

"I would like to know how much it costs the city to live with the current lease," he said. All the commissioners present, Goodlett, Goforth, Altman and Claude Tindall, agreed a percentage lease would not be appropriate for a long-term agreement, such as five years.

Goforth also said he believed the lease should be brought up for bids at the end of the first year of the lease.

"I'm not worried as much about a big fat profit out of it as I am seeing the city not lose money on it," said Goodlett. "It's a great asset to the community." Vayias was unavailable for comment.

City county and DOT plan bicycle paths

BELLE GLADE—The state department of transportation, Palm Beach County and the Belle Glade Beach Community Development Project are collaborating in an effort to construct three bicycle paths in the city.

The city, county and DOT applied for grants totalling about $35,000 for the construction of the three routes in April 1981, according to Ben Harvin, Director of Community Development.

One of the paths will run from Airport Road along US 441 to Airport Park. The path will be on the east side of the canal which runs parallel to 441.

The second path will run from SW Avenue E north to the bridge at the intersection of Canal Street and NW 16th Street. It will consist of a five-foot extension of the road on the east side. According to Harvin, the department preferred to put the path on the west side of the road, but too many driveways entered the road from that side.

The third path will be constructed between 715 and the drainage ditch on the east side of the road from state road 80 to SW Avenue E. The department and the city will collaborate in the construction of the first two paths and the city and county will construct the third.

The city will supply a base material for the paths. The base material will consist of rocks and gravel. In the construction of the first two paths, DOT will pave the routes. In the case of the third, the paving will be done by the county.

Construction of the third path, from SR 80 to Avenue E, will be delayed until South Florida Water Management District has cleaned out the drainage ditch which runs parallel to it.

City Commissioners expressed concern that the path scheduled to pass through the airport passed chemicals stored there that may be hazardous.

Harvin reported that the fumes in some areas the path will pass through are quite strong.

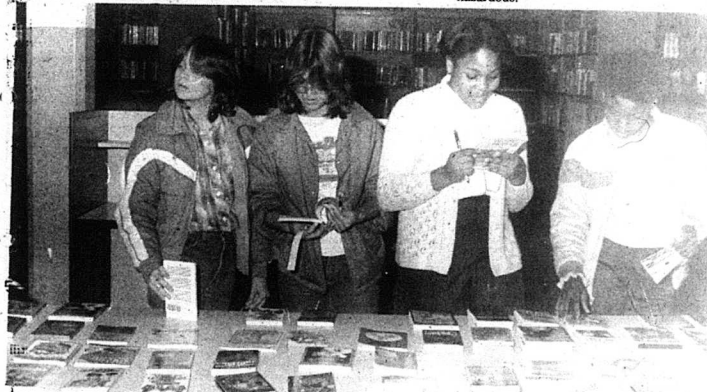

Mayor Thomas L. Altman asked what affect the fumes may have on an individual's health.

"They all say 'poisonous.' To me, that means stay away," said Harvin. "But we're talking about a bike path. It's not a picnic ground. We're talking about traffic moving."

The city commission Monday, March 9, voted to commit the base material to the project.

Letter to the editor...

Belle Glade's finest

Editor:

I would greatly appreciate your publishing this letter in your next edition of the Belle Glade Herald. It is a statement commending the actions of Officer Ryan of Belle Glade Police Force.

On February 28, 1982, my family and I were traveling on Route 441-98 toward West Palm Beach when my automobile died at the turnoff to Route 80. It was early Sunday morning and we had just left our lodgings at the Holiday Inn en route to visit some friends on the east coast of Florida. Despite the fact that the vehicle was new and had been checked at the Ford dealership before leaving on our journey, we suddenly found ourselves stranded on the roadside without any knowledge of repair services located in your town.

The situation quickly improved, however, when Officer Ryan pulled up in his squad car. Together we pushed the vehicle off the road and into the parking lot in front of the Firestone dealer. He then proceeded to offer me a ride to the Amoco Service Station where I hoped to obtain mechanical assistance. Upon discovering that the owner was out to breakfast, Officer Ryan insisted on returning me to the vehicle so that I could wait with my family. He proceeded to search several local restaurants in an effort to ascertain the location of the man who would effect repairs, assuring me that he would return within forty minutes.

At approximately the designated time, Officer Ryan returned, and discovering that the Amoco mechanic had not arrived, he invited me to ride along to another location for assistance. We pulled up in front of the Spanish Cafeteria, whereupon he went inside and located the gentleman for whom we were searching. When he returned, Officer Ryan indicated that the mechanic would be coming along in a few minutes as soon as he had finished his cup of coffee. As it happened, however, twenty minutes passed without the mechanic's appearance. Suddenly, two cars pulled into the Firestone Station. One contained the mechanic while the second contained Officer Ryan. He had apparently returned to the restaurant and on finding the mechanic still there, Officer Ryan ventured back inside to hasten the mechanic's departure.

It took but a moment for the vehicle to be repaired and my attempt to pay for such repair was declined. Expressing a great deal of gratitude to both mechanic and Officer Ryan, my family and I got back in the car and headed for West Palm Beach. Incidentally, the officer decided, apparently as an afterthought, to follow for a short distance in order to be assured that there were no additional problems with the auto. He was a few cars back when a sedan suddenly lurched passed us on the two-lane, traveling at excessive speeds in a no passing zone. Officer Ryan quickly pulled him over, precluding the reckless driving from endangering the persons or property of other travelers along the road.

The City of Belle Glade should be proud of its police department in general, and Officer Ryan, in particular. I found him to be personable, helpful, and in every way the definitive example of a "good public servant". Officer Ryan's actions were greatly appreciated and Chief Miller is intended to recognize his highly commendable actions. Thank you.

Very truly yours,

Better say your prayers

Whenever you have four flat tires in one short morning, don't despair. The rest of the day has to get better.

I proved this recently after having four flats in about two hours.

The day started this way: I was rolling two flat tires down U.S. 27 about six miles south of Sebring at 5:45 a.m. It was dark and drizzling. I didn't mind. We need the rain.

I recall I was communicating directly with the big man upstairs, something to the effect that it would be nice if a Good Samaritan happened along to help me out of my predicament.

Soon enough, there was a fellow stopping his Toyota and giving me a lift into town. He waited around while I had the tires fixed and then drove me back to my car.

Turned out this fellow was a Lake Placid attorney by name of Joel Grigby.

"If you are taking notes," he said, "don't give me a credit line. Thank the Lord Jesus. He is my Lord and Savior."

And with that, he was gone.

I resumed my travels and everything went well, until just the other side of Lake Wales. What it was was another flat tire.

I managed to limp into the Owen Live Bait shop. It was still before 8 a.m., but the owner immediately woke up his wife and had her drive me to a service station, where I bought a new tire. Unknown to me, while she was paying for the tire, she took the wheel and threw it into the trunk. She then drove me back to my car and I installed the wheel.

I tried to pay the couple for their help, in fact I insisted strongly on it. But they just as strongly insisted that I not pay. We shook hands and they took me home.

"You can see why my morning was far from ruined. When you think of all the things that can go wrong, what's a flat tire? Besides, it was nice getting out to meet some nice people, although in an unorthodox way."

A campaign invoking "blood brother" considerations for mainland sugar cane growers resulted in both the parceling out of 3 million tons of needed sugar quotas and presidential support.

The support came in the form of unprecedented reservations, on the part of sugar quota supporters, for a testimonial dinner for President John Kennedy at the Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami.

The support was originated and stimulated by Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner and was channeled through the Florida delegation to Washington, as well as directly to the White House.

It was designed by Chester Cone. J. J. Freidlund was in charge of construction operations and W.G. Bowen was supervisor councilman of construction.

First place award in the educational and commercial exhibit competition at the Everglades Fair was presented to Kirchan Company, with second place going to Belle Glade Nursery, third to Markham Appearies and honorable mentions going to Florida Power and Light and Home Hardware Store.

The assets necessary for starting a new industry - rice growing - in the Glades are here, the Chamber of Commerce was told by a delegation that said a better grade of rice could be raised here more economically than any place in the country.

Luther Jones said J.D. Johnson and J.W. Turner had experimented with the crop at Hillsboro Plantation and had found it profitable.

Jones said experts had examined the rice and cited it as having longer heads and more grains to the head than rice grown in other sections.

40 YEARS AGO
 THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
 MARCH 13, 1942

One of the most serious fires to occur in Belle Glade up to that time caused $2,500 worth of damage, destroying Jay Sample's Photo Shop and J.W. Rashley's Jewelry Store on Main Street.

Hundreds of people gathered to watch Belle Glade's Fire Department battle smoke and flames to get the fire under control.

Chemicals stored in the photo shop gave the flames added force and the entire front of the building was soon in flames. Explosions from the chemicals blasted the plate glass windows and doors before the firemen could get the water started.

With the Everglades area becoming more and more war conscious, an all-out effort was being made by the Belle Glade Defense Council to train 500 citizens in the protection of their families and homes.

"A large number of people," a front page story said, "have reconciled themselves to forego the luxury of listening to their favorite radio programs, picture shows and various other diversions in order to avail themselves of the training."

The local farm labor supply was becoming serious. W.R. Hooker said in a letter to the local draft board, and asked the board to defer farm workers from the military draft.

Hooker was chairman of the agriculture committee of the Belle Glade Defense Council.

50 YEARS AGO
 THE EVERGLADES NEWS
 MARCH 11, 1932

Employees of Southern Bell Telephone Company busy installing telephones in Pahokee and Canal Point and the new exchange was expected to open for business by the end of the month.

T.L. Jordan, Southern Bell's district manager in West Palm Beach, estimated the exchange would open with approximately 110 subscribers.

The first equipment was delivered, after a 45-day delay, to begin work on the first segment of what would become known as the Herbert Hoover Dike around Lake Okeechobee.

A floating clamshell dredge and two two-yard draglines were delivered to the crew being fielded by the McWilliams Dredging Company of New Orleans and work began on the six-mile length of levee.

The levee work, to be accompanied with an equal length of navigable waterway, was located between Moore Haven and Clewiston under a contract awarded by the War Department Engineers.

The project was designed for the prevention of an overflow of Lake Okeechobee as had happened during the 1926 and 1928 hurricanes.

It was expected to cost $600,000. For those non-greedy folks who would be satisfied with 1932 wages, 1932 prices and 1902 taxes, a glimpse of those 1932 prices can be enlightening.

In the Everglades News' classified ads (which cost a penny a word with a 25 cent minimum, by the way) there was not one but two ads by people wanting to sell 20 acres of land each for $500, or a three-year payoff could be worked out for $500.

The Prince Theatre ads also made interesting reading. A doctor, nurse and ambulance were being kept on standby during the showing of the movie "Frankenstein".

And, "The fastest, smartest, screamingest, naughtiest comedy yet to reach the screen. See Norma Shearer and Robert Montgomery in 'Private Lives'."

Correction

In the South Bay election story in the March 4th edition of the Herald-Observer it incorrectly stated Renick Morris won the Group II seat and was a native of the Bahamas. The story should have read Commissioner Renick won the Group I seat and is a native of Jamaica. The Herald regrets any inconvenience it may have caused Mr. Renick by its mistakes.

Farm output declines 2 %

One US farm worker produced supplies of food and fiber consumed by himself and 77 others in 1980, despite a 2 percent decline in farm productivity caused by a widespread drought in the eastern United States. In 1979, one farm worker produced for himself and 71 others.

The rapid increase in production per worker is notable even though it took place in a drought year which reduced crop output by 9 percent as yields declined and crop failure acreage rose by 70 percent.

Hours spent on farm labor showed a slight decrease and the number of tractors used on farms declined by 2 percent although the average horsepower of tractors increased from 55 to 58 HP per unit.

While overall farm labor productivity declined in 1980, the rate in livestock, with an overall output increase of 4 percent, was up by 8 percent. Crop production dropped by 23 percent in cotton, 16 percent in feed grains, and 7 percent in hay and forage crops.

The hours of labor used in production of livestock declined even as total livestock output went up. Labor used in producing poultry and milk decreased 7 percent and that used in meat animal production dropped by 5 percent.

The continued rapid increase in the number of people served by one farm worker is due to the increasing modernization and specialization of farming and the greater use of purchased inputs rather than farm-produced inputs, such as feed, fertilizer, and seed and such services as grain-drying and pesticide application.

The reduction in farm-produced inputs favoring purchased inputs (substituting commercial fertilizer application for spreading farm-produced manure is an example) has increased the number of non-farm jobs connected with agriculture. For every farm worker producing food directly, there are four to five nonfarm workers supplying the resources used in producing and processing foods and fibers.

The steady increase in the number of persons served by one farm worker in providing the foods and fibers required has been accompanied by a marked decline in the number of farm workers required to do the job. In 1960, one farm worker produced for himself and 25 others, and that year there were 7.1 million people working on farms in the US.

By 1980, with one farm worker providing the food and fiber for 52 people in the US and 26 people in foreign countries, the farm employment figure had dropped to 3.7 million workers.

Miss Harrington and Mr. Bruni exchange wedding vows

GEORGIA -- Miss Carolyn Anne Harrington of Pahoehoe, and Alan Pekar Bruni of Belle Glade exchanged vows in the sanctuary of the St. Paul United Methodist Church in Columbus, Georgia on Feb. 20. The bride is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. William Webb Harrington of Columbus and is the granddaughter of Mrs. C.E. Isom of Moultrie, Georgia and Mrs. A.

W. Harrington of Atlanta. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Bruni, also of Columbus. The Rev. William O. Powell officiated at the ceremony assisted by Father William O'Neill. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding the gown worn by her mother at her wedding in 1952.

The gown was fashioned of bridal satin and Chantilly lace with a bodice designed with a yoke of nylon maline outlined with a wide band of lace which extended down the front to a point. The long sleeves ended in calls points over the hands and the full flaired skirt was enhanced at the hemline with a wide band of lace coming to a point in the skirt front and extending around the chapel length train.

Her waltz length tiered veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a cap of embroidered Alencon lace etched with pearls and she carried a crescent cascade styled bouquet of white cattleya orchids, roses, stephanotis, Gypsophila, ivy and pittisporum.

The bride also carried a handkerchief which was carried by her mother at her wedding which belongs to Mrs. I.B. Perlman of Moultrie.

The ceremony took place in a setting created with twin arrangements of Fuji mums, tulips, daisies, snapdragons, carnations, roses and Gypsophila in shades of pink and white. Brass candelabra held white cathedral candles and were set in a background of ferns.

The family pews were marked with nosegays made of tulips, roses, Gypsophila and ivy in shades of pink and tied with candlelight ribbon bows. Mr. Bruni served his son as best man. The ushers were William W. Harrington, Jr. of Atlanta, brother of the bride, Chris Bruni of Macon, brother of the groom, Ralph Fackler and Joe Fackler of Tucker, Georgia and Carl Hubbard of Auburn, Ala.

Miss Susan Harrington of Columbus attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Rhonda Hays of Knoxville, Tenn, Miss Lynn Weekley and Miss Luanna Eason of Atlanta. Mrs. Elizabeth Raines Cook of Athens, and Miss Suzanne Isom of Columbus.

The attendants were attired in floor length gowns of daphne rose Qiana designed with pleated skirts and empire bodices with jewel necklines edged with lace.

Their shoulders were covered with net edged in deep flounces of Chantilly lace and they carried cascade bouquets of roses, gymbidium orchids, Gypsophila and ming fern.

Mrs. Alan Pekar Bruni topped with a nosegay of similar flowers. Arrangements of similar flowers as were on the brides' table were placed throughout the reception area.

Following a wedding trip to Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., the couple made their home in Pahoehoe.

Reception

A reception was held following the marriage of Miss Carolyn Harrington of Pahoehoe and Mr. Alan Bruni of Belle Glade at the Officers' Club at Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Paradise palm, ferns and potted garden plants were used as background in the reception area.

The bride's table was adorned with silver branched candelabra holding floral arrangements of tulips, freesias, roses and snapdragons in shades of pink and held the tiered wedding cake

BELLE GLADE -- Mr. and Mrs. Jose E. Castro of Belle Glade announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Loly, to Steve Miners, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Miners of Pahoehoe.

The bride elect is a 1977 graduate of Glades Day School and is currently attending the University of South Florida in Tampa.

KEEPING THE FAITH

"Jesus answered, 'Unless I wash you, you have no part with Me.'"

It was the part of the Passover, the last Passover our Lord celebrated. It was the night before He was crucified. It was also the night that Jesus instituted the Lord's Supper.

Jesus was in the Upper Room with the twelve apostles where they were celebrating the Passover. Peter and John had been sent ahead to this place to prepare the meal and they had done and had all things in order, save one task. Part of serving a meal to a group of people was having someone at the door to wash the feet of those coming in to dine. This task was usually done by a servant, if not, it was assigned to someone in the host's family.

Why was this overlooked? We cannot be sure, but if we look at the attitude of the twelve we may discover the reason. There had been a good deal of discussion the last few days as to who was the most important. It centered around who was going to be in places of authority when Jesus established His kingdom.

Now when someone is trying to establish their own importance on their own plan of authority, they are not likely to accept a task that a servant or a slave is supposed to do. Therefore, Peter nor John wanted the task and they probably realized that neither would anyone else and because of this they did nothing about it. But, Jesus used this situation to teach them and us some lessons. Jesus had already said several things to the disciples that if they had heard they would not have needed this lesson. Listen to these words of our Lord.

"For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for Me will find it." Matt. 16:25. Again He said, "For he who is least among you all - he is the greatest." Luke 9:48 and earlier that week Jesus had said, "The man who loves his life will lose it, while the man who hates life in this world will keep it for eternal life, whoever serves Me must follow Me; and where I am, My servant also must be. My Father will honor the one who serves Me." John 12:25,26. These are but some of the things Jesus had taught the apostles, that should they have understood, or had taken to heart would have changed their attitude and their value system. Therefore, in the midst of their arguing, Jesus gave them a demonstration. He took a pan of water and a towel and began to wash the feet of these twelve men. He washed the feet of Judas who would betray Him. He washed the feet of Peter who would that night deny knowing Him. He washed the feet of these other glory seeking men who were called to serve and sacrifice yet that night would flee in face of danger.

Then he asked them, "Do you understand what I have done?" Then He went on to say the Master had done the work of a servant. Therefore, they ought to do the same thing. Somehow as we let time pass we return to the stance of the twelve. That is because we need the same thing the early disciples needed. You remember what Jesus told Peter, unless I wash you, you have no part of Me." That is Peter needed to be cleansed - he needed to be cleansed of self. That is what we need to be cleansed of. There is religion of "self" today that has become a dangerous cult. It is putting self above everything else - taking care of number one.

The only cure for this false religion is letting Jesus really come in our lives. It is inviting Him to come in and cleanse us of our self seeking and establishing himself as the King of our lives.

The Singing Glades Central Raiders

GC Raiders to sing their way to Atlanta

By ALMA HENRY

BELLE GLADE — The Glades Central Community School "Raiders" known throughout the State of Florida for their athletic ability in football, basketball and track are now making themselves known in a new arena...the arena of music.

The "Singing Raiders" under the direction of Reginald Asberry, is one of the most talked about high school choral groups in the State of Florida. The Raiders recently returned from the Bethune Cookman College Musical Festival in Daytona Beach where they showed off their musical talents.

Asberry, a graduate of Bethune Cookman College, said the festival, under the direction of Dr. Rebecca W. Steele, choral director at the College, featured various high school, community and college choirs.

The Glades Central Community School Choir was the only representative from Palm Beach County.

"The students really out did themselves," said Asberry. "They received three standing ovations during their performance," he added. "Last year Martin County High School was tops, but this year the Raiders were tops," said Asberry.

Martin County High School and Dillard High School of Ft. Lauderdale were the only other high schools from South Florida appearing at the Festival.

Beaming with pride as he talks about the "Singing Raiders", Asberry has every right to be. Several chorus students have been named to Who's Who Among High School Music Students and the Raiders Ensemble recently participated in the District 9 Soloist and Ensemble Competition held at John I. Leonard High School. The Raiders received a "excellent" rating for their efforts.

Although the Raiders failed to get a "superior" rating, Asberry is quick to point out its not the Raiders fault.

"When the judging was over, Asberry said, other high school choral directors and students at the competition, expressed disbelief that the Raiders did not receive a superior."

Asberry said he considered protesting the mark to the Florida Vocal Association but decided against it.

This week Asberry and the "Singing Raiders" are preparing for the District 9 Choral Competition.

Asberry, a perfectionist when it comes to performing a piece of music, is rehearsing the Raiders over and over, day after day for the competition.

At a rehearsal Tuesday, Asberry was constantly telling the students they "control their own destiny."

In addition to preparing for the District Choral competition, the Raiders are also preparing for a tour of Six Flag Over Georgia, an entertainment park located in Atlanta.

The Raiders will be performing at Six Flags, April 29 through May 2. Asberry said high schools, colleges and community choirs from across the nation will be performing.

The Raiders will be competing in Class B along with other high schools and will sing the National Anthem at an Atlanta Braves baseball games while there.

Making the trip will be 40 singers and the Parent Executive Board. Asberry said the trip will cost over $7,000. "The chorus is soliciting community donations and we will be most appreciative of any donations received," said Asberry.

According to Asberry, the students and the Executive board have planned a number of fund raising events.

On March 20 at the Afro Arts Festival the chorus will be operating a food booth at the Lake Shore Park. Asberry said the booth will feature a variety of baked goods.

On April 16, the Raiders will present the Bethune Cookman College Concert Coral at Lake Shore Middle School Gym.

The coral is under the direction of Dr. Rebecca Steele and is recognized across the nation and abroad for its musical performances. A matinee will be presented at Glades Central for students on April 16th also.

Asberry said tickets for the concert at Lake Shore are $3 and will go on sale Mar. 13. Tickets can be purchased from members of the chorus and parents.

On April 20, the "Singing Raiders" will present a concert at the Glades Shopping Plaza. During the concert the Raiders will be soliciting funds for

Devils travel to states

PAHOKEE — Although looked over by the Florida Sports Writers Association for selection into the Class 2A Top Ten Poll throughout the basketball season, the Pahokee High School Blue Devils' boy basketball is one of the four best teams in the state.

The Blue Devils, coached by Eddie Rhodes, will be one of four teams participating in the Class 2A State Tournament in Lakeland beginning Thursday, Mar. 11.

Pahokee will face Avon Park at 2 p.m. in the Lakeland Auditorium Friday. Avon Park is the number one ranked 2A team in the state. Coach Rhodes said Avon Park comes into the tournament with a 31-1 record.

Although small compared to most teams in the area, the Devils 20-6, have played some tough opponents on their way to the state championship. During the regular season, the Devils played one Class AA school; the Clewiston High School Tigers.

Coach Rhodes' schedule was filled with teams like Glades Central, North Shore, Fort Pierce and Suncoast. Glades Central won their regional before losing to Miami Edison 73-70 in the sectional.

Unlike last year when the Devils lost the Sectional game, the Devils blew their opponent off the court with a 72-47 victory Saturday.

The Devils playing at Deerpark High School in Coral Gables, never had any real threats from Deerpark.

Coach Rhodes said he it "a bit of a surprise, winning by such a wide margin." Coming into the game, Deerpark was 29-2.

The Devils got off to a fast start in the first with a 19 to 7 lead. Although Deerpark outscored the Devils by 5 points in the second quarter, the Devils lead at half time by a score of 32 to 25.

In the second half, reserve center Melvin Jones, coming off the bench to replace starter Anthony Bryant, who was in foul trouble, led the Blue Devils with 14 points, nine in the final quarter.

Coach Rhodes said Jones also had 12 rebounds. "Jones has to be the game's Unsung Hero," said Rhodes. "In a number of key games during the district and again in the regional, Jones came off the bench and did an exceptional job for the Devils," said Rhodes.

Jones is an example of the fine untapped talent in the Glades, said Rhodes.

Prior to playing ball with the Devils this year, Jones had never participated in any high school sporting activities.

Guard Floyd Henry added 13 points, nine assists and nine rebounds while Antonio Wilson scored 12 points and Walker Johnson had 11 points and 14 rebounds.

Going into the fourth quarter with a 51 to 39 point lead, the Devils buried Deerpark in the final quarter with 21 points to Coral Gables' 8 points.

Rhodes said Saturday's game hosted by Deerpark gave his team the confidence it needs for the tournament in Lakeland. Deerpark pressed the Devils all night and played a man to man defense the entire game. Although the Devils had several players in serious foul trouble, the Devils continued to play with confidence and cohesiveness.

Also scoring for the Devils in addition to Jones, Henry, Bryant and Johnson were Joe Walker with 6 points; Kirk Patrick, six points; Juan Rubio had four and Anthony Smith and Anthony Bryant had two points each.

Coach Rhodes said the Devils are "practicing, practicing and practicing" for Friday's game against the number one Class 2A team.

Crusaders field 1982 team

BELLE GLADE — Pitching.

You can have an infield ten, eleven players deep and an outfield so crowded you can't find a place to stand.

But without at least two good starting pitchers and one reliever, you can't go too far in baseball.

That's a problem facing Crusader Coach Woody Salvatore as Belle Glade Christian opens its baseball season.

"We hit the ball pretty good," he said. "We have good offense, good defense. About the only weak spot is the pitching."

Last year's pitching sensation, William Cruz, has moved across town to Glades Central. He has 16 games and lost one to lead the Crusaders in a 23-4 season.

Salvatore's looking to two, maybe three players to take over the starting roles.

Last year, Alex Morales "threw some" for the Crusaders, and he's expected to play a key role on the mound this year when he's not at short.

The second player Salvatore has his eye on for a spot in the starting rotation is James Barnwell. Barnwell would be new to the mound.

There are two other possibilities. Luis Garcia, expected to fill in at relief, may also be called on to start a few games. The only left handed thrower on the team is Rick McCroan and Salvatore said he may give him the nod if he proves he can throw.

Juan Armas and Pipo Paez will probably both play the role of fireman at least once this season. The line-up offensively and around the diamond consists of players who "want to play baseball," said Salvatore, giving him reason to think the team should put together a good season.

The first six batters have shown speed and power in pre-season practices, he said.

Armas will work third base and catch for the team, and he'll lead off in the batting order.

Morales, batting from the second spot, will alternate between short and the pitcher's mound.

Barnwell, playing at first and third when he isn't pitching, will bat third. Salvatore describes him as having the most power in the team. "He has a real good swing, real good stick."

Batting clean-up will be Tavi Garcia, probably the most versatile player on the team defensively during pre-season. Salvatore said he intends to use him in the infield when his cut short due to the pitching rotation, or in the outfield.

Luis Garcia will start at first and bat fifth.

Rookie Pipo Paez will catch and bat sixth.

Mirto Vigosa, another newcomer, will swing in the seventh spot and play second and short.

Tracey Shealy, the eighth batter, will cover center field.

Cory McKee will bat ninth for Robert Echols in right. Echols, stationed in right for his defensive abilities, hasn't shown much power or consistency at the plate, according to Salvatore.

Scott Hudson, Rick McCroan and Frederick will play in the outfield also.

Five of the thirteen member squad are first year players: Paez, Vigosa, McKee, McCroan and Frederick.

The team started practicing last week, but due to inclement weather managed to put in only three days of practice before its first games early this week.

"We look okay," said Salvatore. "All we have to do is find someone who can throw strikes."

Boat course slated

BELLE GLADE —

The Coast Guard Auxiliary will offer a 13-lesson Sea Boating Course called Boating Skills and Seamanship at the Flotilla Club 4550 N. Dixie, West Palm Beach. The course will begin on Thursday March 25 and continue on Tuesdays and Thursdays nights, 7:30 p.m.

The course is taught by volunteer members of Flotilla 53. Cost is only for the books, approximately $6. Belle Glade Auxiliary has 12 members of Flotilla 53 in West Palm Beach.

Errors, pitching defeat Gators

BELLE GLADE — After winning their opener Thursday, March 3, against the Moore Haven Terriers, the Glades Day Gators baseball team came up against a tough 2A LaBelle Cowboys' team.

Southpaw Tommy McArthur, who had struck out seven batters in three innings against the Terriers the night before, was called on to start against the Cowboys.

The first inning, he gave up two hits and three runs, enough to give the game to the Cowboys.

Rick Meister led off the Cowboy first with a base on balls. He stole second and was batted in on a Sanchez double.

Sanchez scored on an error by Gators shortstop Tommy Wilson.

With one out, Cowboy pitcher John Willis drove in the winning run with a single.

The Gators prevented the big inning from becoming even bigger when third baseman Henry Alava snagged a line drive and McArthur fielded a grounder and got the force-out at second.

McArthur gave up one run in the second and three more in the third before the team settled down and retired the side in the fourth.

In the fifth, he was yanked when Willis led off with a single, stole second and pulled up to third on an error. He scored on a passed ball to the Cowboys' second batter of the inning.

Jeff Parsons gave up one run and struck out four in relief.

The Gators put one run on the board in the second when Alava batted Brian Lehmann in from third.

In the sixth, Parsons batted Richard Schiele home from second. Willis, pitching six innings for LaBelle, hurled a five hitter and struck out three.

In the seventh, he was relieved by a fast-ball hurler who struck out two and got the last out of the game on a grounder to the second baseman.

Glades Day lost the game 2-9. The Gators' record is now 1-1.

They had beaten Moore Haven 10-9 the previous day.

Gators 1982 Baseball Team

In their first game of the season, the Crusaders were edged by the Moore Haven Terriers, 4-5.

Moore Haven went ahead in the first inning when their lead-off man walked. A passed-ball put him on second and when the second man in the line-up hit a single, the score was 1-0, Terriers.

In the second, the Crusaders went ahead 2-1 on three walks and a single.

The third inning saw the Terriers tie the game with an unearned run, a result of three errors.

The two teams went into the fourth with the game tied at two. The Terriers used three walks and an error to capture the lead again, a lead they would not relinquish.

In the fifth, Moore Haven scored its winning run. A dropped line drive to third put the Terriers' lead off man on base. When the third baseman overthrew first in an attempt to beat the runner to the bag, Moore Haven ended up with a man on second and no one out.

A grounder to second moved him to third. The Terriers put on a squeeze play to drive the runner home with one out. When the bunted-ball popped out of the pitcher's glove, the batter reached first and the score was 2-4.

The next batter went to first after being hit by a pitch and the Terriers had runners on second and third when a pitch went past the catcher.

A grounder to the pitcher gave the Crusaders their second out. When the next batter popped up to the pitcher, it looked like the Crusaders had gotten out of the inning — until the pitcher dropped the ball. One run scored and the Terriers had runners on first and third.

The Crusaders started a comeback by scoring

Range management for wildlife

In recent years more and more ranchers and researchers have found that good range management is also good wildlife management. Wildlife game animals including deer, turkey and quail, along with nongame and bird species, are an important part of any ranch. The pleasure of seeing wild animals on their land is satisfying to many owners. Management to improve game populations for hunting by hunters, family, friends and business associates provides a valuable economic and social benefit for a cattle operation.

The opportunities to supplement ranch income with hunting lease fees are just beginning to be explored in Florida. Income from hunting exceeds that from livestock on many ranches in south Texas, where hunting fees run from $3.5 per acre for quail to $1000 plus per trophy buck. There are ranches in Florida that are presently leasing hunting rights for $2.5 per acre.

There are a number of management techniques that can be applied to benefit wildlife populations. Controlled burning is a well accepted range management tool that can also be used to improve wildlife habitat. Burning on a three year rotation is recommended to increase desirable bluestem grasses for cattle forage. It also reduces roach and stimulates food production for deer, quail and other wild animals.

Winter burning does less damage to nests and wildlife young than spring burns. Burning late in the afternoon on calm days frequently results in an irregular patchwork, leaving unburned and burned areas adjacent to each other. This interspersed of food and cover is necessary for wildlife. It also provides cattle and wildlife with a variety of forage, permitting them to be more selective in grazing plants that best meet their nutritional needs.

Proper stocking along with rotating cattle between pastures does much to improve livestock forage and wildlife food production. Grazing often benefits deer and game birds by making food plants, seeds and insects more available. Resting pastures periodically allows deer maximum forage benefits without competition from livestock. It has been shown through experience and research that properly managed rotational grazing systems improve range condition for both cattle and wildlife.

On April Fools' day

"A holiday of the mind, not the state" — April Fools' is a day when young and old alike enjoy the carefree spirit of youth.

Also called All Fools' Day, it takes its name from a centuries-old tradition among the English, Scots and French of playing practical jokes on April 1.

Since colonial times, the day has persisted in American folkways and affections, although it has naturally not received recognition or encouragement from schools or government.

The aim of April fooling has always been to put over some prank or impossible request on an unwary person who has not yet noticed what day it is. When the fooled person goes confused or realizes that he has been taken in, the joker exclaims in triumph, "April fool!"

Traditionally, most April Fools' pranks are carried out in the early part of the day, preferably around breakfast time before anyone has had a chance to realize what day it is.

In fact, in some places, if April fooling is not carried out before noon, the prankster is called the "April fool" for having tried his tricks too late.

Although many explanations have been given as to the origin of April Fools' Day, the similarity of April fooling to one aspect of the Hindu festival Holi (or Holi) has especially fascinated folklorists.

Originating as an ancient fertility rite, Holi is a five day Hindu festival that ends on March 31. For numberless centuries, many an unsuspecting person has been sent on a fools' errand on that day.

Some say that the strong resemblance between the last day of Holi and April Fools' Day suggests a prehistoric common origin, attesting to the great antiquity of April Fools' Day.

However, it seems just as likely that the European and Hindu celebrations arose quite separately, and in different eras, as virtually all peoples have woven fools' errands into their folk tales in one way or another.

Whatever its global affinities, the tradition of April Fools' Day as we know it was brought to the American colonies by English, Scottish and French settlers.

Though the exact dates of its origin in Europe are unclear, the first allusion to

All Fools' Day in English literature dates from the end of the 17th century.

Another possibility may also be that April fooling came to the British Isles from France, where the hoax is called a "poisson d'avril," an "April Fish."

Whether this is because the sun was leaving the zodiacal sign of Pisces (the fishes) on April 1 under the Julian calendar, which was used in France until 1582, or because an April fish tends to be easily caught, no one knows.

But, today in France, confectioners display chocolate fish in their windows on April 1 and, as a joke, friends send each other unsigned humorous postcards with pictures of fish.

In the United States, the custom playing pranks is celebrated chiefly by schoolchildren. They may write "kick me" on a piece of paper and put it on the back of a friend, then wait for the results with barely suppressed glee.

But, one may catch a glimpse of this childlike spirit in adults too, who are not above playing pranks on this day. A mother may even mischievously put circles of cloth inside her family's panicles so that they cannot be cut, in accordance with the day's joking tradition.

The fact that people often hesitate to commit important matters, such as marrying or launching a new business enterprise on April 1, attests to the fact that a genuine folk feeling continues to surround the day.

The traditional association with unreality and imposture has its effect, and a youthful spirit prevails. There have been some, however, who have been able to ignore this. The most noteworthy incident being when Napoleon I of France married Marie-Louise of Austria, his second wife, on April 1, 1819. Yet, not even the king was beyond the dictates of tradition, as his subjects thereafter dubbed him an "April fish."
